Annual Meeting Recap

by Tory Baucum

We have some wonderful mission opportunities ahead, which include:

- TPK's report to expand the school, with special attention to peacemaking and at-risk-children. This report is currently under study by the vestry.
- Missional community for immigrants attached to Truro (approximately 200 folks) to launch in 2018.
- Peace Institute: a nine-month internship for young adult Christians to learn the Truro approach to peace.
- Current five-year lease extended to a long-term lease to accommodate the above mission.

More details on this and other matters to follow in our next Parish meeting sometime in the Easter Season.

Please Welcome Our New Vestry Members

At our Annual Meeting last Sunday, Truro elected six new members of our vestry. Please keep these men and women, and all members of our vestry, in your prayers as they serve Truro in so many important ways.

Portraits of Reconciliation: Canon Sarah Hills

Sat, Apr 8 | 9:00 - 11:30 am | Undercroft

Join us in two weeks to hear Canon Sarah Hills in our series on reconciliation. Sarah is Coventry Cathedral's Canon for Reconciliation Ministry. She was born in South Africa, brought up in Northern Ireland, and has lived in the UK since the mid-1980s. She holds the post of the Bishop of Sheffield's Adviser in Pastoral Care and Reconciliation. Sarah has said, "Coventry Cathedral has long had a calling to work for reconciliation and peace. In 1940, the city was bombed during the blitz, and the medieval cathedral was ruined. Since then, Coventry Cathedral has pursued a message of reconciliation through our work locally, nationally, and globally."

i Childcare is available for kids 4 and under only.

FAMILY MINISTRIES

Youth Group Is Growing!

by Wes Buckley

For the past eight weeks, our Youth Group has been learning about "The Songs We Sing." We have been looking into the meaning and Biblical truths that are expressed in these worship songs, and have had some great teachings by Coleman Tyler, Jason Lalone, and Jamie Brown. Below is a picture of Jamie teaching on the song, "Come You Sinners," and communicating the Gospel to 50 teenagers! This series has been a ton of fun, and it has been an incredible blessing to worship with this amazing group of teenagers. God is moving in the midst of our teenagers here at Truro!

Kids Ministry Is Growing Too!

by Anne Bronaugh

We need more helpers to keep up! We are committed to pointing kids towards Jesus in a safe, loving, relational environment, and that requires adults willing to commit to loving kids well each Sunday. Our Kids Ministry happens in small groups divided by age. We learn names, read and discuss a Bible story, and pray together. We're currently in need of small group leaders and helpers, adults willing to be substitutes as needed, and adults willing to help us check in and check out kids to ensure their safety.

i If you are willing to help between now and June or over the summer, please contact Anne Bronaugh at abronaugh@truroanglican.com or stop by the Family Ministries table before or after church.

CONNECTIONS

Today: Monthly Newcomers Coffee

If you're new to Truro and haven't yet had a chance to come to one of our Newcomers Coffees, join Hannah King, our Connections Pastor, at 10:30 in the Reception Area in our Parish Office building. We want to welcome you!

TIPS

Meet TIPS' New Assistant

by José Garrigó

Nar Coleman is a NOVA transplant from Connecticut who is joining the TIPS team to serve our internationals. She is ethnically Chinese, but, as the child of Cambodian refugees, she's a blend of both cultures. Although her family comes from a Buddhist background, Nar received Christ into her heart at a VBS program when she was seven. She is married to Chris Coleman, a missionary kid who grew up in Italy and has no end to his love for pizza. Nar and Chris love to eat food from all over the world. If you have any good recipes, Nar's always up for trying something new!
