AMORE

Amore + Fresh Expressions Conference Apr 7-9 in Alexandria by Bob Tate

Yes, you heard right! Fresh Expressions USA, which partners closely with Truro, is hosting a very special Amore Conference on Thu, Apr 7 with Tory Baucum, Don Renzo Bonetti, Hannah King, and others to unpack and present Amore to the larger Christian community in North America at First Baptist Church of Alexandria. Please consider coming to this history-making event!

The Fresh Expressions Conference on Apr 8 + 9 will also be held at First Baptist Church of Alexandria. It will provide many opportunities for folks to learn how to bring church to the community (including via Amore) and engage with other Christians from all backgrounds who share a passion to reach others with the Gospel. None other than Audrey Assad will lead worship. I'll be there, and I hope you will be too! i Information and registration for both events is available at freshexpressionsus.org/fxng2016.

GLOBAL MISSIONS

New Wineskins Missions Conference

Thu, Apr 7 - Sun, Apr 10 | Ridgecrest, NC

Held every three years, the "New Wineskins" Global Missions Conference (largely Anglican) will be held Thu, Apr 7 - Sun Apr 10 this year. Speakers from around the world and Anglican missionaries from many agencies are coming to inspire and equip God's people to fulfill the Great Commission. Our own José Garrigó will be attending, giving a workshop in English on Alpha for ESOL in the context of Truro International Programs + Services (TIPS), and then giving a workshop (in Spanish) about Alpha Tools.

Truro would like to partner with several other area churches in chartering a large van or bus going from Virginia to beautiful Ridgecrest, NC in the Blue Ridge Mountains. If interested, contact Coleman Tyler, ctyler@truroanglican.com. i More information at www.newwineskins.org.

Made for Love by Hannah King

When I first began "showing" in my pregnancy, I struggled to adjust to the fact that my body was undeniably expanding.

Looking in the mirror, at times I felt that I did not recognize myself, that my body was being taken over by someone else (of course, it was!). Now as I approach childbirth, similar anxieties about what will happen to my body have surfaced. It surely is a great privilege to partner with God in bringing life into the world, but it is not one without pain.

Bringing these thoughts and feelings to church week after week, I've been invited to gaze upon the Cross of Christ which hangs high in our sanctuary. There, I have been reminded that He, too, experienced the pain of self-giving as He bled for us. He, too, gave His body for love. Jesus was not a mother, but He has become my example: "This is My body, broken for you."

In becoming flesh, Jesus Christ dignified the human body beyond comprehension. And then, through simple acts—touching lepers, blessing children, washing feet, carrying a cross—He showed us exactly what the human body is for. It is not for maintaining perfection or for self-promotion, but rather for giving. The body is made for love.

Gaze upon the Cross and remember the One who gave His body for you. He did not turn away from the pain that it required to bring you life. And whether you are a mother, a father, a friend, a spouse, a child, a brother or sister, ask of Him, our great example, what it means for you to follow in His footsteps. How is He calling you to give yourself, body and soul, for the sake of love? It might be uncomfortable or even painful at times, but it is what you were created for.
