Come Join Us This Summer at TIPS

TIPS is looking for volunteers to serve as partners with our students for our “One on One Summer Conversation Program.” Volunteers will schedule at least six meet-ups with their partner and attend an orientation on May 14 in the Reception Office after the 9:00, 11:15 am, or 5:00 pm services.

The heart of our new “Befriending A Family Program” is to introduce Truro and TIPS families and for them to get to know each other better over two or more meals during the summer. Scheduled meals are up to the coordination and preference of both families. Hospitality and simplicity is the key.

i Interested? There will be a table with TIPS volunteers by the church doors today and next Sunday after the 9:00 and 11:15 am services. Or you can visit truroanglican.com/tips or contact tips@truroanglican.com.

Join Us This Week for “Alpha-As-Usual”

Two weeks ago, we had an Alpha party. New people, Truro long-timers, and people brought by their friends came and heard about Alpha. We had a beautiful atmosphere . . . that got rained on! But everyone laughed it off as we quickly headed indoors for the remainder of our evening.

Our first “Alpha-as-usual” night was last Thursday, but you can still join in this Thursday at 7:00 pm! “Alpha-as-usual” simply means a safe place for you or your friends. Nobody is ever pressured to believe, say, or do anything. However, they ARE fed a great meal and given free childcare!

So come along! The more perspectives (especially differing perspectives), the more robust the conversation. We hope to see you and your friends Thursdays this spring! i Visit truroanglican.com/alpha to learn more.

Your Generous April Giving Impact

by Bob Tate

Seriously—April was another incredible month at Truro! I must start with the wonderful news of receiving a long-term lease to remain on our campus for decades to come, while we launch a peace institute! We had a beautiful Alpha Celebration dinner at the Mayfield’s house with many in attendance, including some new folks. We successfully launched Spring Alpha along with a new pilot ministry called “Rooted” (more info later). We hosted a major DOMA clergy event, as well as the Daughters of the King Spring Assembly. Both events were warmly received. We now have 100+ kids for our Sunday programs, our Youth ministry started back up, and TIPS kicked off a new ESOL Bible study and more (see above). We welcomed two new outstanding staff members: Nar Coleman with TIPS and Jason LaLone with Alpha.

Palm Sunday and Holy Week were incredible, topped off by a phenomenal Easter Sunday celebration—He is Risen! Finally, the month was capped by a delightful TPK Sunday with so many smiling and singing children; it was a joy. Can't wait for May!

Whose Definition of Leadership Are You Living By?

May 3-4 | 9:00 am - 5:30 pm | Common Grounds

Often times, we can be left without much time or space. This means we can't think well about the position of leadership God has us in. It is all too easy to default, simply doing what we need to do to get done what we need to get done. But how are our actions affecting us and those around us? On May 3 and 4, we will be streaming a live conference: Pete Scazzero's "Emotionally Healthy Leadership." We invite you to come to this free streaming and to think together about true Christ-centered leadership.

No Used Book Sale in 2017

The Truro Anglican Library Guild has postponed their 2017 Used Book Sale for this summer. We hope that this previously annual event can be resumed next year. Although there is no sale this year, the Guild still maintains collections on campus, available for a 30-day circulation period. These may be checked out by card, using the honor system. Reference books in the Reception Office are reserved for use on campus only.

The Guild will still accept donations of Christian books (including Christian fiction), CDs and DVDs with prior approval of the Librarian. Please contact Harriette Best, 703.273.1300 x428, to check that there is space and/or use for your donation before dropping off any items. Check The City and on-campus fliers for other book donation options.

Lost Something?

We've consolidated all our lost and found items into one location! All found items should be turned in to the Reception Office in the Parish Office building. If you have lost something, feel free to stop by or give the receptionist a call during the week, and they can let you know if we have what you're missing.
