Join Us As We Begin Fall Alpha This Friday!

Fri, Sep 30 | 6:00 pm

We had an Alpha Cookout last Friday, and a diversity of people came to hear more about our Alpha course. We had more families attend than usual! We are making it easier for families within and outside of Truro to come—earlier time (6:00–8:00 pm), Matt Desmarais' Kids' Olympics program, and, as always, childcare for the littlest of our kids. NoVA can be oppressively busy and, at times, lonely. But there's never been a better chance to wrestle with big questions in small community. Whether you are a family with kids or not, will you try Alpha on Friday?

i Questions? Michael King, mking@truroanglican.com.

Kids Olympics Is Ready for Your Kids!

Families who came to the Alpha Cookout got a taste of our new Kids Olympics, and it was a big hit! So you can bring your kids with you when you try Alpha on Friday night and be sure they're going to have a blast. Kids Olympics is for K through 6th grade. There will be games, crafts, stories—and that's just the beginning! Teens too old for Kids Olympics but too young for Alpha (which is for 18+) can come and help with the younger kids, and, of course, we have childcare for the littler ones. We'd love to see the whole family on Friday nights!

i Questions? Matt Desmarais, mdesmarais@truroanglican.com.

This Week: Come Hear from Bishop Graham Tomlin

This Wednesday, we are hosting the Rt. Rev. Dr. Graham Tomlin, Bishop of Kensington, as he presents the opening session of the Anglican Family Symposium. Truro parishioners are able to attend this session free of charge. Bp. Tomlin's session is at 7:00 pm on Wednesday in the chapel. You are also encouraged to participate in the rest of this important ACNA symposium on the family, which includes lectures by Tory, Dr. Joseph Atkinson, and Rev. Tish Harrison Warren.

i More info and registration at anglicanfamily.com.

Fri(s) Sep 30 - Nov 18 | 6:00 - 8:00 pm

COMMUNITY GROUPS

Fall Is a Great Time to Visit a Community Group

by Hannah King

This morning we are commissioning and praying for community group leaders here at Truro. Finding your place at a church as large as Truro can be daunting—community groups are one of the primary ways to make church "smaller." This time of year is perfect for visiting a group to see if it's a good fit for you. We can connect you with one in your geographical area! Whatever your age or life-stage, whether you've been a Christian all your life or are still investigating the faith, a community group will welcome you.

i Contact Hannah King, hking@truroanglican.com, to be introduced to a group leader in your area.

FAMILY MINISTRIES + TPK

TPK Family Fun Run + Truro Fall Festival!

by Mike Seawright

Family Ministries and our own Truro Preschool and Kindergarten (TPK) are partnering to make two of our favorite fall events into one fantastic fall day! On Saturday, Oct 15, plan to be here at Truro from 9:00 am until 1:00 pm, and grab our hotdog lunch before you leave. The 1-mile Family Fun Run is a fundraiser for TPK, accompanied by a huge silent auction! The Fall Festival is FREE and adds live music, bouncy houses, face painting, carnival games, popcorn and cotton candy, and, of course, a cake walk! Come out with friends and family to support TPK and to have FUN!

i More info and a registration link for the TPK Family Fun Run are available at truropreschool.org. Everyone who registers by Oct 1 is guaranteed a t-shirt! After that date, t-shirts are first-come, first-served.

The Fall Festival portion of the day is free, with no registration required.
